

LAST WORD

As this year book is brought to an end, there are attributes of appreciation and thanks that I would like to bestow upon the TIGER STAFF and their understanding parents. I would like to thank them for the many times they put aside their personal studies and worries to assume many of the responsibilities of this book.

A special thanks goes to Mr. Davis, our photographer, who was always there to help.

I owe a great deal to "Susie" Williams for her long hours of work, tolerance, and helpfulness. It was through her constant care and advice that we kept the annual rolling.

My deepest gratitude goes to my parents for their words of encouragement and patience with me.

We bring this annual to a close with a sincere wish that it will bring pleasure to you now and will find a prominent place "among your souvenirs."
